

Growing beyond
Gutenberg.

From block-based editing to site administration

Your panel

Hosted by Hannah Smith

Panel members:

- Elio Rivero
- Felix Arntz
- Kåre Steffensen
- Mark Uraine
- Tom Nowell

Our format

We've got 5 questions to discuss

Each panelist has time to answer with no interruptions

Then we get some free flow debate amongst the panellists

When did you first hear about the Gutenberg project and plans to change the editing experience?

Did you think it was a good idea or not?

What's being worked on in phase 2

- Bringing widgets into blocks
- Navigation/menu blocks
- Motion and micro interactions

Coming soon / explorations

- Footnotes
- Resizing images / snap to grid
- Snackbar notifications

What else can you tell us about what's being worked on at the moment?

What do you think about the importance of these changes and is there anything that interests you personally?

Is there something else you see as more important?

Full Site Editing plugin

What do you think of the Full Site Editing plugin?

Is this functionality useful and should it form part of WordPress core in the future?

Do you think WordPress should keep the Classic Editor as an option, or should the Classic Editor end entirely?

Thank you 🙏
